Introducing the Health Care Quality Congress, a new national meeting from NCQA! This conference is designed for the seasoned health care management professional responsible for managing, implementing, and assessing health plan accreditation survey processes as well as professionals gathering, analyzing, or reporting HEDIS data.

Previously held as a regional series of Advanced Health Plan Accreditation and HEDIS seminars, the Health Care Quality Congress will be the first opportunity after the 2019 standards and measures are released to ask questions, learn about the latest developments in Health Plan Accreditation and HEDIS measures directly from NCQA, and expand your ability to offer high-quality, value-based care to your plan population via a NEW expanded agenda.
